Established by Congress in 1932, the mission of the FHLB System is to provide a stable source of funding for nearly 6,600 member financial institutions to support housing finance and community investment. Regulated by the Federal Housing Finance Agency (Finance Agency), the FHLBs are cooperatively owned by their members, operate independently with their own boards of directors and are registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

As of December 31, 2021, FHLB Des Moines had 912 commercial banks, 37 thrifts, 256 credit unions, 69 insurance companies, and six community development financial institutions (CDFI). For the 2022 election, the total number of eligible voting institutions for the FHLB Des Moines district will include 1,280 member institutions.

FHLB Des Moines Board of Directors

The Bank has its own board of directors, management and employees. The FHLB Des Moines Board of Directors provides oversight and strategic guidance to the Bank's management and is responsible for defining and advancing the mission and activities of the Bank and for addressing the interests of its constituencies. The Board adopts, reviews and oversees the implementation of policies governing FHLB Des Moines business activities, including risk management policies to ensure the Bank operates in a safe and sound manner.

Board Meetings, Composition & Structure

The Bank's Board is comprised of member directors elected by its member institutions on a state-by-state basis, and independent directors elected by all members in the Bank's district. Member and independent directorships are allocated annually by the FHFA. The Bank's Board currently includes 13 member director seats, one allocated to each state in the Bank's district, and nine independent directors, two of whom serve as 'public interest' independent directors (PIDs). No member of Bank management may serve as a director of any FHLB.

The Board currently has nine standing committees: Executive and Governance; Audit; Technology; Housing and Community Investment; Human Resources and Compensation; Member; Finance; Regulatory; and Risk and Compliance. The committees report to the full Board of Directors and make recommendations to the Board on certain matters requiring full Board approval. Board committee members are appointed on an annual basis.

On an annual basis, the Bank's Board of Directors holds a minimum of six in-person meetings as well as several telephonic meetings. In-person board meetings are held in various locations throughout the Bank's district, but typically take place in Des Moines, IA.

Director Compensation

Each FHLB, within certain general guidelines and regulations of the Finance Agency, establishes its own compensation structure and reimbursement of expenses for Federal Home Loan Bank directors. More information about director compensation and reimbursement of expenses is available by accessing the Bank's 2021 Annual Report filed with the SEC.

Director Eligibility Requirements

Both member and independent directors serve four-year terms, and are term-limited to three consecutive full terms on the Board. Member directors are required by statute and regulation to meet certain eligibility requirements to serve as a director. All Bank directors are expected, at the time of election or within a reasonable time thereafter, to have a working familiarity with basic finance and accounting practices, including the ability to read and understand the Bank's balance sheet and income statement. To qualify as a member director an individual must be: (i) an officer or director of a member institution in compliance with its minimum regulatory capital requirements and located in the state in which there is an open directorship, and (ii) a U.S. citizen.

In order to be eligible to serve as an independent director on the Bank's Board, an individual must be a U.S. citizen and maintain a principal residence within the Bank's district (or own or lease a residence in the district and be employed in the district). In addition, the individual may not be an officer of any FHLBank or a director, officer or employee of any Bank member institution or of any recipient of Bank advances. Each independent director must have experience in, or knowledge of, one or more of the following areas: auditing and accounting, derivatives, financial management, organizational management, project development, risk management practices, and the law. Each PID must have more than four years of experience in representing consumer or community interests in banking services, credit needs, housing or consumer financial protection.

Desired Director Attributes
