Financial Results Discussion

Net Income - For the three months ended March 31, 2019, the Bank recorded net income of $112 million compared to $118 million for the same period in 2018. The decline in the Bank's net income was primarily driven by an increase in other expense mainly due to an increase in professional fees and other operating expenses, as further described below. Net income was also impacted by a slight improvement in net interest income, offset by a decline in other income.

Net Interest Income - The Bank's net interest income increased to $159 million for the three months ended March 31, 2019 compared to $157 million for the same period last year. The improvement was primarily due to an increase in net interest margin, offset by a decline in average advance volumes. The Bank's net interest margin was 0.45 percent during the three months ended March 31, 2019 compared to 0.42 percent for the same period in 2018. The increase in net interest margin was attributable to the higher interest rate environment offset in part by lower asset and liability spreads due to increased costs on the Bank's interest-bearing liabilities.

Other Income (Loss) - The Bank recorded net gains of $5 million in other income (loss) for the three months ended March 31, 2019 compared to net gains of $8 million for the same period last year. Other income (loss) was primarily impacted by net gains (losses) on derivatives and hedging activities and net gains (losses) on trading securities, as described below.

During the three months ended March 31, 2019, the Bank recorded net losses of $12 million on its derivatives and hedging activities through other income (loss) compared to net gains of $20 million during the same period last year. The fair value changes were primarily driven by changes in interest rates which impacted the fair value on interest rate swaps that the Bank utilized to economically hedge its investment securities portfolio. During the three months ended March 31, 2019, the Bank recorded net gains on trading securities of $10 million compared to net losses of $16 million for the same period in 2018. These changes in fair value were primarily due to the impact of changes in interest rates and credit spreads on the Bank's fixed rate trading securities.

Other Expense - Other expense totaled $39 million for the three months ended March 31, 2019, compared to $33 million for the same period last year, primarily due to increased professional fees and other operating expenses. The increase in professional fees was the result of hiring external resources to assist with multiple ongoing Bank technology and operational initiatives. The increase in other operating expenses was primarily due to an increase in depreciation expense, mainly due to the depreciation of furnishings associated with the new building we moved into in 2018 and increased amortization due to a change in useful life of one of the Bank's information technology systems.

Assets - The Bank's total assets decreased to $146.0 billion at March 31, 2019, from $146.5 billion at December 31, 2018, driven by a decrease in advances, partially offset by an increase in investments. Advances at March 31, 2019 decreased by $7.1 billion from advances at December 31, 2018 due primarily to a decrease in borrowings by large depository institution members. Investments increased by $6.5 billion from December 31, 2018 primarily due to an increase in money market investments as a result of increased liquidity holdings during the first quarter of 2019.

Liabilities - The Bank's total liabilities remained relatively stable at $138.7 billion at March 31, 2019, from $139.0 billion at December 31, 2018.

Capital - Total capital decreased to $7.4 billion at March 31, 2019 from $7.5 billion at December 31, 2018, primarily due to a decrease in activity-based capital stock resulting from a decrease in member activity. The Bank's regulatory capital ratio decreased to 5.14 percent at March 31, 2019, from 5.27 percent at December 31, 2018 and was above the required regulatory minimum at each period end. Regulatory capital includes all capital stock, mandatorily redeemable capital stock, and retained earnings.
